

A problem shared

Reliable health information from patients, for patients.

Listening to people with the same problems as you can help you feel less alone. Finding that person isn't always easy. We have interviewed thousands of people like you about what it's really like to have a condition such as cancer, arthritis or depression.

Visit healthtalk.org to watch people sharing their stories, so that their experiences can help you and your loved ones get the support you need.

 healthtalk.org

